Rest-rest in peace-thy duily toil is done; And standing, as thou standest, on the brink Of a new scene of being, calmiy think Of what is gone, is now, and soon shall be, As one that trembles on eternity.

For sure as this now closing week is past, So sure advancing Time will close my last— Sure as to-morrow, shall the awful light, Of the eternal morning hail my sight.

Spirit of good! on this week's verge I stand, Tracing the guiding influence of thy hand ! That hand which leads me gently, caimly still, Uplife's dark, stormy, tiresome, thorny hill. Thou, thou in every storm hast sheltered me Beneath the wing of thy benignity. A thousand graves my footsteps circumvent, And I exist-thy mercy's monument ! A thousand writhe upon a bed of pain;

Pilve-and pleasure flows through every vein. Want o'er a thousand wretches waves her hand; I, encircled by a thousand mercies, stand; How can I praise thee, Father! how express My debt of reverence and of thankfulness? A debt that no intelligence can count, While every moment swells the vast amount! For the week's duties thou hast given me strength, And brought me to its peaceful close at length, And here my grateful bosom fain would raise A fresh memorial to thy glorious praise.
